SYC's guide to consulting with Young People

Checklist

- Consulting with young people takes time - don't rush it
- Identify which young people you want to hear from
- Be flexible, fun and innovative
- Don't always do the same activities with young people
- Many young people prefer face-to-face conversations
- Be careful about raising expectations
- Always provide feedback
- Remember to think about what is in it for young people
- You don't have to do the consultations yourself
- A 'good' consultation provides as much information to young people as they give back to you
